LAI TO REST WITH SIMPLE CEREMONIES

Great Throngs and Many Notables at Funeral of Lord Strathcona.

Treaty for Partition of the Austrian Empire Has Been Revealed.

(By Times Special Cable.)
London, Jan. 26.—The body of the late Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, High Commissioner for Canada, was buried today with the most simple ceremonies in Highgate cemetery, North London, beside that of his wife, who died a few months ago.
Before the funeral a great funeral procession was held in Westminster Abbey, and was attended by a large gathering of state officials and persons prominent in all circles of society.

WILL REPORT AN AGITATOR

But Not Because He Was Only An Agitator.

HUSBAND AND WIFE

One In For Theft;
The Other For Vagrancy.

"You got to jail for three months and at the end of that time we will arrange for your deportation to the old country," said Police Magistrate Jelfs this morning to Bernard Thornton, who, for several weeks, has been making his home at the Salvation Army Metropolitan hall, was arrested by Constable Smith on Saturday on a vagrancy charge. "I hope you get lots of my sympathy," said Thornton, as he was taken away. He was suspected of trying to cause an agitation among the unemployed, and was watched for several days. He had not been working for some time, and when offered a position on a farm, refused it. "Were you ever in any trouble in the old country?" asked County Attorney Washington. "I don't mind saying," he said, "that I am a drunk, and I have been arrested for that in England, Australia, Argentina and several other countries. I am sure that he was a sailor and had come to this country on May 25th aboard the Commodore. He admitted having a wife and family in Bristol.

Francis Farrell, 17 Canon street, west, was a lucky man, but like all others who have a good thing, he took advantage of it and got caught. For some time he has been out of work, and his wife, who kept books, gave him some money. Saturday he did not get sufficient from her and collected the money from the boarders. She turned him in for it and he was taken away. This morning he was fined $5 for the assault.

Stanley Fowler, 13 Wood street east, was warned to keep away from the street. He was summoned by Constable Galt on Saturday for acting disorderly. "Were you drinking?" asked the constable. "No," was the reply. "Well, you have been drinking, haven't you?" (Well, I didn't have any breakfast, so I had an eye-opener," said Fowler, as the magistrate told him to go.

There was not enough evidence against Clara Forbes on a vagrancy charge to warrant the magistrate making a conviction against her, and after receiving a piece of the magistrate's mind, she was told to straighten up.

The woman had scarcely left the room when her husband, John Forbes, was led to the railing and asked to explain about the theft of cement from Morris Levy. He was released until tomorrow.

Robert Grotto, 325 James street north, was caught stealing in Woolwich, and was taken to the police station. He was charged with stealing a coat and a hat. He was released until tomorrow.

James McMurtry, 131 Chalmers street, was summoned to court for a theft charge. James Kirk Galt was the complainant, and stated that McMurtry stole various items of tobacco at various times.

TO FATHERLAND

Oscar Preussker Will Not Be Fooled This Time.

About five years ago an athletic young German, Oscar Preussker, landed in Hamilton. He could not speak English and had no friends. Through the influence of some of his countrymen he managed to get employment at odd jobs until he finally secured work in the German club as caretaker of the amusement rooms. He always pined for the fatherland, however, and nearly two years ago he started for home. When he arrived in New York to take the steamer he took a walk around the city and fell in with a courteous stranger who spoke his mother tongue and offered to show him around. The next thing happened, he took up next morning minus money, ticket and the most of his clothes. His friends in Hamilton brought him back.

Now, after two years, speaking English fairly well, Oscar is going to try it again, and leave here for New York to-morrow night to bring his second time. He is going to bring a month Mr. Preussker will bring his bride to Hamilton to live.

PASSED ANNEXATION ORDER FOR MCKITTRICK SURVEY

East End Annexation and Incline Matter Will be Dealt With This Afternoon.

The Ontario Railway Board, comprised of D. McIntyre, C. C. Chairman, H. N. Kitchin and A. B. Ingram, met in the Court House here at 11 a.m. to-day, for the purpose of deciding three questions of vital importance to the city, viz: the annexation of 178 acres lying just west of the present city limits; the annexation of about 310 acres in the east end of the city; and also the matter of the east end incline, it being incumbent upon Hamilton Mountain Park Company to show cause why they have not complied with the order of the Board issued in December, to have the incline repaired, and in operation four weeks from that date.

The petition for the annexation of that area, known as the McKittrick property was the first question to be brought before the Board.

John Morden was the first witness called, and in answer to G. H. Levy, of Gibson & Levy, who represented the petitioners, that there were about twenty people within the prescribed area who were entitled to vote, though only fifteen appeared on the voters' list. J. G. Bennett, representing the town of Barton, which opposed annexation, elicited, through Alfred Bryant, Clerk of the Barton Township, that W. J. Southern and W. H. Cooper, who had signed the petition in favor of the annexation, were not entitled to vote in respect of property in that township, but seven others who had signed were entitled to vote.

J. H. King, clerk to Hamilton Township, seemed somewhat hazy as to whether the eight names who had signed the petition for annexation were entitled to the vote on account of ownership of property within the territory to be annexed, though they undoubtedly owned property in the township.

Mr. Bennett, who owns five lots within the prescribed area, also gave testimony. The decision of the Board regarding these petitions was that, though, strictly speaking, they should have been three district petitions from the electors in those portions of the township which would be affected by this annexation, namely those of Barton, Rochester and West Flamborough, the Board were satisfied that the majority of municipal electors within those sections of territory had signed the petition.

The next question brought forward was the question of serving due notice on the township of the petition for annexation. This was assisted by City Clerk Kent, but denied by Hamilton Township Clerk King, who said that no such notice had been served on the township. The Board decided that it was not necessary to serve notice on the township, as no notice was served on the township.

City Solicitor Vaddell started to explain the propositions. The city regarding paying to the township a certain amount of money for the school, and expenses connected therewith, but the board said this was a matter for adjustment between the township and the city, and that the various authorities after the consummation of annexation, and only if an agreement could be arrived at, may be dealt with. Failing a settlement, the question to be settled by arbitration.

The board will take into careful consideration the reading of the law on this matter when making its order. Mr. Waddell said that he had intended to ask for annexation from Dec. 31, 1913, but that the city might immediately assess the property before the fixing of the date was unnecessary, as it was provided in the statute.

MAKING A DEAF SET AGAINST LOBBYING

Mayor Allan Does Not Like It In Connection With Civic Salaries.

New Tungsten Lamp Demonstrated in City Hall To-day.

Recent developments in the agitation on the part of some City Hall officials to secure salary increases have so incensed Mayor Allan that to-day he gave out an emphatic statement on the "at-tention," declaring that before he would consent to any more money being given to the city officials, the question would have to be more seriously considered. Mayor Allan claims that some officials not only lobby among the members of the Board of Council and the City Council, but also go outside and secure the influence of prominent citizens with the controllers and aldermen. "It is likely that His Worship will make an appeal to the latter to give a cold shoulder to any one attempting to influence them, declaring this morning that the whole business would be a waste of time, as to all the councillors would follow his example in refusing to participate with any more lobbying. The Mayor takes the stand that in one or three or four (Continued on Page 11.)

Lamp Upset While She Was Probably Asleep.

After lingering for twenty-four hours in a semi-conscious state, Mrs. Lillian Beattie, 17 Duke street, widow of John Beattie, died at the city hospital about 2 o'clock this morning from the effects of suffocation from smoke. Early yesterday morning George Beattie, son of the unfortunate woman, was awakened by the smoke from a lamp. He jumped out of bed, and thinking it was the furnace, rushed to the cellar. Every-thing was all right there, and he decided that nothing was wrong. However, when he got upstairs he detected smoke coming from the room occupied by his mother, and hurrying to the door he found it locked. He immediately broke in the door and found his mother apparently unconscious on the floor. He ran across the road to the residence of James Craig, who telephoned for the fire department. The fire arrived at the company report, but the fire had been extinguished when they arrived. The firemen set to work to revive Mrs. Beattie, who by this time was in a precarious condition. Constables Kinnaird and Buckner, who were called in, realized that a spark of life was still left and worked on the woman for some time, with the result that they brought her breathing again to normal.

G. T. R'S COURSE Will be Announced, re Ferguson Ave. This Week.

John G. Gauld, R.C., announced this morning that E. Donald, land and sea commissioner of the G.T.R., had notified him that he, Mr. Donald, would be in Hamilton this week to make an official announcement regarding the proposed street widening. The G.T.R. intended to compensate, rather than buy out, if compensation is not agreed upon, the owners of the property owners prove correct.

BLAME ALUMINUM It Is In That Wire That the Trouble Is Found.

Shortly after 9:30 this morning the power went off in the factory, and the case stopped, but in a few minutes everything was again running. Transmission trouble is given as the cause, and so many slight breaks have occurred recently that the men seem to know just where to locate the damage. It has been noticed that a great deal of this trouble has happened just east of the city, and it is known that the aluminum wire on the Dominion Power & Transmission line is used, and while there is no doubt of its strength, "as to which is the best, copper or aluminum, from present indications there is a very little likelihood of the Ontario Power Company installing the latter kind. Speaking of insulators, Mr. Coleman said that he had seen some of the insulators from Germany, which he said, was not the case. Almost every kind of insulator was shown, and most of them had been found of any greater benefit than the other.

WORK FOR ALL
Who Are Willing to Go to the Farms.

H. C. Sweeney, Dominion immigration agent, stated this morning that there was not a man who was out of work in the city, and willing to go on a farm, who could not get a position. "There are numbers of men who apply to me for work," he said, "and I have to give them a slip for a job in the country, only a few ever go. They all seem afraid of work. I can generally tell where a man wants work or not. It has become a form of habit with me to read a man's expression, and of those I read I know he is full-blooded son of rest. Men who will not work when the opportunity is offered are not much good to a city, and an effort should be made to get them out of the city."

MUST OPERATE But It Need Not Be Done In a Hurry.

Sheriff Middleton announced this morning that no word had been received from the Minister of Justice regarding the removal of the prisoner Laylock from the city jail to the hospital for treatment to his arm. Dr. Hopkins, at the solicitation of the sheriff, examined the man's arm again yesterday, and gave his opinion that an operation was absolutely necessary. "It is not a very serious case," he said, "but it was not an immediate hurry, so Sheriff Middleton decided not to do it, but had intended to write the Minister of Justice to get busy.

RELIEVED EIGHT FAMILIES.
The officers of the special citizens' relief committee announced to-day that every contributor was being sent a personal acknowledgment of their contribution. HIS LAST GIFT
Strathcona's Late Bequest to Royal Victoria College.

(By Times Special Wire.)
Montreal, Que., Jan. 26.—How Lord Strathcona, only the day before he died, personally called $45,000 to the governors of the Royal Victoria College, was told by William Peterson principal of McGill University, at a memorial service held here to-day, attended by the students. The function took place in the speech room of the Royal Victoria College, and was largely attended.

Another service was held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, where a service was held by Lord Strathcona while residing in this city.

The school named after the High Commissioner in a suburb of Montreal was founded, while before the late Lord Strathcona, the old public school references were made to the deceased peer by the principal.

LABOR AND WOMEN.

Mr. N. W. Rowell, leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, made a notable address on Saturday before the Victoria Library Society in Victoria College, Toronto. Mr. Rowell is a Democrat of the Democrats, an advanced Liberal, in all that pertains to the betterment of the people. Although Mr. Allan Stodhouse, the member for East Hamilton in the Local Legislature, is both a Tory and a Protestantism, as well as a Laborer, Mr. Rowell was hesitant to testify to that gentleman's ineffectualness in the House, saying on Saturday that "I have a great deal of regard for the person who is the Labor's sole representative in the Ontario Legislature, and confidently look forward to the time when the people will see a score or more independent labor members in the same assembly, because the people who toil and produce wealth should have their share of representation." Mr. Rowell has made a deep study of labor and women in Canada and in Britain, and he realizes that the prosperity and happiness of the country depends upon the condition of the people. No nation can be great where the people are contented, and he is going to keep out of the broad line, where living is a perpetual struggle for the bare necessities, where housing conditions are insanitary and where the people are denied the comforts which come from a just reward for their toil. He declared himself to be an absolute believer in democracy, because it is perfect faith in the people and a common sense of the average man. He does not believe in what is called a ruling class. He believes in government for the people and by the people, and he believes in the labor man, the worker, in the councils of the country.

He goes further than this. Mr. Rowell does not believe in any distinction in the government of the nation. At least we gather that from certain statements he made in his address. "Whether we like it or not," he said, "the workers of this age tend towards the political and social position of the men of the future. The women of their proper share in the management of the country's affairs." During his speech Mr. Rowell forecasted the introduction of a bill in the Ontario Legislature at the coming session of the Legislature. "This bill," he said, "will aim at the extension of the women's franchise on a par with that given them by municipal governments." He is somewhat dubious as to Mr. Rowell's intent as expressed in the above quotation from his remarks. It may be that he wishes that the women should have a vote in municipal elections may also have a vote in political elections. However, the great point is that the leader of the Liberal Opposition favors an extension of the franchise to certain women.

SENATE AND NAVY.

No Conservative statesman, politician or newspaper has declared that the Canadian Senate, in throwing out the Borden naval bill, has not only weakened the power as laid down in the British North America Act. In Britain the struggle between the Lords and the Commons is not hinted that the Lords had succeeded in their efforts. Although for years the Lords had, when the Tories were in power, acquired nearly all the bills sent to them from the House and the Liberal Government, no one put forth the claim that they had acted contrary to the law or that they had done anything for which they had not the power, as was claimed in Britain, however, by the Liberals that the Lords had too much power, and the Parliamentary act was passed by the Commons which passed the bill which had been three times passed by the House of Lords. In Canada the Senate had either the power to reject the naval bill or it had not. It is admitted that it had the power. They say that it is not the power, but in its wisdom, it believed that the bill should not, at that stage, become law.

It may be that the fathers of Confederation made a mistake when they created a Senate, or it may be that it was endowed with powers which it should not possess, and that it was not of the order of election to that body is ridiculous. These are questions which are open to discussion. But while the Senate is as it is, with the consent of the people and in accordance with the constitution of the country, it should be permitted to perform its functions like the same as the Commons is permitted and expected to do that. No questions the right to the Commons to enact laws or to reject them when necessary, then why object to the Senate? It is a legally constituted body with legal statutory powers.

However, the wisdom or otherwise of the actions is open to criticism. Do it as wisely in throwing out the Borden naval bill? Should it, under the circumstances, have confirmed it? That is the only phase of the question that is really open for discussion. Do it as it being an irresponsible aristocracy.

TOO MUCH

To Relieve the Existing Needs of Poor.

Arnold Jones is Getting Along Quite Nicely.

It is generally recognized in the west end that while there are a large number of people out of employment, very few cases of actual want are situated in that district. But those who are working amongst the poor know, and many stories of the direct poverty could be told, in the churches the Ladies' Aid society handles this branch of the work, and too much credit cannot be given for their zealous efforts amongst the poor. Besides the individual effort of the Ladies' Aid society, there is a church fund which is continually arranging some scheme for the relief of the poor. The fund is a very small one, but it is a very good one.

LORD STRATHCONA

To the Memory of Canada's Grand Old Man.

The lion of the north has passed on to his rest. And Canada mourns her noble son and crown him with her best. Truly he left a name illumined by kindness and worth: And he shall stand, by history's hand, among the great of the earth.

He shall stand as one inspired by highest conceptions of right. As one who fought, and fought again, for the cause of the poor and the weak. As one of the pioneer builders, who laid with a master hand the foundations of the empire.

Time could not dim his spirit, nor crush his mighty will. And though the reaper, found him full of vigorous purpose still— It was as though he laid aside his tasks upon the morrow's light.

Let his crown be not of laurel, but of maple leaves. Emblematic of his best beloved—the land that for him grieves: For his noble inspiration, we were nourished at his breast: So crown him with his maple, and God will do the rest.

WESLEY CHURCH

First Meeting Held in the New Sunday School.

After having been compelled to use the old Gore Street Church as a Sunday school since the completion of the new building, the Wesleyan Church, under the leadership of Mr. J. W. G. Gunn, general secretary of the Wesleyan Church, held its first meeting in the new building on Sunday, Jan. 25th, 1914.

The new building is a very complete and thoroughly equipped church. It is a large and comfortable building, and is well equipped with all kinds of games, including billiards.

The school when completed will be one of the finest of its kind in the city, costing in the neighborhood of $30,000.

The formal opening will take place on Sunday, Feb. 5, when a prominent official of the Methodist Conference will preach.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday preceding that day the different departments of the church and Sunday school will hold social hours, and the church will be open to the public.

Did Not Get S. American Oil Concessions.

London, Jan. 25.—Lord Murray, of Elibank, has not yet told publicly his version of his non-success in securing oil concessions in Central America, but at a private dinner given by Lord Conway to the heads of departments at Pearson's Co. on Jan. 21 he admitted regretfully that his mission had failed. He gave no details, but there are being filled in as they leak out from various sources.

Lord Murray's failure, in addition to those for oil concessions, include his failure to secure a concession for a transatlantic cable which could be used as a lever in his campaign for a concession for a transatlantic cable.

As well as other advantages.

FIRST YEAR IN LAW.

The results of the examinations at Christmas of the first year law students have been announced and E. G. Binkley, J. D. Scott, H. A. Harrison, A. A. Macfarlane and R. H. Britton, all of this city, were successful. The name of Miss A. Alford as having passed in the last year's examination was included in the last, only member of the fair sex. Miss Alford is not a Hamilton girl, but resides in the country.

Often discoloredations on enamel may be removed by rubbing with cloth dipped in vinegar.

That is one of those things which you can do for yourself, and you can do it for your friends. The spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit that we are the children of God.—John 1:12.

German Bishops Counsel Hamilton Will Be Well Represented at Meeting

Berlin, Jan. 25.—The instruction of the young in matters of sex calls for "the greatest caution and reserve" in the opinion of the Roman Catholic bishops of Germany. The question formed one of the subjects of discussion in the annual convention of the bishops of the provinces is expected to be introduced for discussion. The association comprises 64 bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, and from three to four representatives will be present from each board, consequently the delegates to the convention will number several hundred.

The Hamilton board will forward a number of resolutions to be introduced and discussed at this convention.

The report made with expressions of deep regret that the clothing of girls and women have become soiled by the Association of Catholic Women is applied to the case of women against "the sacred" booklet.
